MARKET MOVEMENT STILL UNCERTAIN

Absence of Activity Proves About the Only Feature of Session.

LACK OF CONFIDENCE IN INDUSTRIAL OUTLOOK

Prices Seem to Have Been Lifted Through Largely Unfounded Rumors.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—The mixed and uncertain price movement in today's stock market was much the same as for several days past, but the marked subsidence of of activity was a distinguished feature. The number of disciplinary measures adopted by the beard of governors lately, to which was added an expulsion today operates to curtail some lend of activity in the market, but it is doubted whether operations of the kind atmed at make up a large proportion of the dealings from day to day. The moral effect of these measures, however, is to discourage manipulative and fictitious transactions which are with a view solely to the effect on prices.

The current dullness in the speculation finds its truer explanation in the doubts felt over the industrial and business outlook, and in the height of which previous speculation had pushed prices. The proportion of demonstrated truth in the numerous rumors which have helped to lift prices remains up to the present small, and conjecture over the reliability of much of this report grews anxious with the spectacle of prices, halting or receding. Renewed advances in special slocks on fresh rumors of this sort don't serve entirely to wipe out misgivings. Such movements were in evidence today and proved of effect in sustaining prices, but not in broadening the demand. Wisconsin Central, it was still considerity announcement was made on the sub-icet.

New York Central was affected by the ef Canadian Pacific, but no authoritative announcement was made on the subject.

New York Central was affected by the currency given to a story that E. H. Harriman had obtained an option on the holdings of W. K. Vanderbilt and was to assume the chatrmanship of the board of directors. This report received no countenance from the interests immediately concerned.

The advance in the Bank of England discount rate to 3 per cent, which was the principal event of the financial day, was of small immediate effect in New York. The action has been generally expected and had no unfavorable effect on foreign stock markets. Private discount rates rose in London and Paris. The strong return made by the Bank of England colocident with this advance in the official discount rate was a notice of a pursuit of a policy of strengthening position for future contingencies rather than to meet the present demands.

The heavy repayment to the bank, amounting to over $20,000,000, were supplemented by a decrease of $11,445,000 in the holdings of government securities in the effect toward the reduction of supplies in the open market. The purpose of the bank to attract gold is thus definitely proclaimed and a competition amnounced with the Bank of France for the weekly arrival of Transval gold, which the latter institution has been taking from London markets for the last month.

ing from London markets for the last month.

Heaviness of the metal industrials proved a drag on the market. The note of disappointment in the views of steel trade authorities over the rate of revivel of new demand carried United States Steel to the lowest point touched since its rise to a record price late last year.

Amaignmated Copper also was unfavorably affected by the declining tendency of the price of copper and the reports of accumulating stocks of copper and the high rate of production of that metal. The metal closed with none of the intermittent swings of prices in progress.

Bonds were tregular. Total sales, par value, $4,644,600.

United States bonds were unchanged on value, $4,644,666. United States bonds were unchanged on Discount Rate Raised.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The rate of discount of the Bank of England was raised today from 2½ to 5 per cent. This is the first change since May 28 of last year. The increase in the rate was generally anticipated and was due to the small gold reserve which last week stood below $100,000,000, being further depleted today by $5,000,000 by withdrawals during the past few days for shipment to South America.

past few days for shipment to South America.

Since these withdrawals an unexpected influx of gold from the country raised the reserves, as shown in today's bank returns to a little above $105,000,000. But against the general drain, only small amounts have been coming from Egypt and for many months the bank has been unable to obtain the weekly supply arriving from the inthes, as France has been a persistent buyer of the metal, presumably in preparation for the new Russian loan. With the banks' reserve at such a low ebb, the high rate is necessary to attract gold imports, as well as check continual demands.

WHEAT MARKET DULL

Tin Is Higher Abroad; Lead, Some Life Manifest in Final Hour as Result of Support by the Bulls.

> CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—The wheat market was a dult and narrow affair the greater part of the day, but livened up luring the final half hour, as a result of a cover support by bull leaders. This of a cover support by bull leaders. This demand carried prices up, half to 11@11 from the low points of the day, the May delivery showing the greatest gain. Pit traders finally were bearishly inclined, but were afraid to venture far from shore and consequently only a moderate demand by the bull leaders was sufficient to maintain prices during the first half of the session.

> mand by the bull leaders was suncent to maintain prices during the first half of the session.
> Foreign news was somewhat hearish, the European markets showing little response to the upturn here yesterday. Advices from India also told of light rains that had partially relieved anxiety regarding the crops in the united provinces. The strength late in the day was based to some extent on a considerable improvement in the local demand for cash wheat, sales today being reported at 80,000 bushels. Stansas City at the same time told of sales aggregating 150,000 bushels, all of which, it was said, was for shipment to Mexico. The market closed strong at almost the top, final quotations on Mayheing at $1,062 and on July 272c.
> Free sales by some of the principal holders caused weakness in the corn market. A slight recovery was made late in the day, because of the sharp rally in wheat and owing to sales of 150,000 bushels of cash corn to a Baltimore exporter. The market closed easy, with prices off ic to iffic. Final quotations on May were fife and July at 614,661.

Legan & Bryan Cotton Letter, New York.—Cotton showed from $1.2 points advance today in the face of heavy realizing sales. The bears became aware of the fact this morning that on every deciline there were orders to grab cotton. taing sales. The hears became aware of the fact this morning that on every decline there were orders to grab cotton, and they finally concluded that they would exercise some discretion and cover a portion of their lines. The efforts to do so excited the market and carried the nearby positions, fanuary and March, into a close corporation, and these optons showed marked strength. May cotton found a little on tap at 2.30 level, and while that price was made found trouble absorbing what offered at that figure. The demand for dry goods shows increases in all quarters, and trade from China seems especially flattering. The small uncounted interior towns are reporting an entire cleanup, and the larger counted points show considerably less inclination to sell their holdings except at sharp premiums. The ports have depleted their stocks to below last years record and tomorrow's week-end into sight movement is expected to be a bull-ish document, in that the mills show the amount into sight for the week only 300,000 bales. Cotton is exceedingly chan at these prices, although these prices are the high point of a very low-priced season. The large interest is largely eliminated and the shorts are in very scrious attitudes.
